NEWS

Eleanore Redwin conducts five counseling sessions per month at Riverpark under the sponsorship of the Family Education Association. Also, she and Georgia Greven are therapists for three mothers' discussion groups, one group for the mothers of teenagers and married children, and a couples group. While in Jamaica recently, she and Adaline Starr were invited to a counseling psychodrama session for probation officers.

***

As a result of a few counselors from Vancouver attending the International Adlerian Summer School in Crete last summer, a study group was formed in that area. About 18 people have been meeting weekly since September. Dr. Rudolf Dreikurs recently was in Vancouver and exerted considerable influence on many people. Mileva Nastech reported that there seems to be great potential for the development of Adlerian approaches there. Achi Yatomi from Israel will hold a workshop the last two weeks in July. Approximately 100 people are expected to attend.

Hertha Orgler from England reported on her recent trip to Australia. She delivered the Commemoration address to the Adlerian Study Group of Individual Psychology at Monash University. She also lectured for the Parkville Psychiatric Unit of Melbourne, The Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists in Melbourne, and the Institute of Mental Health Research and Post Graduate Training. Mrs. Orgler is an honorary life member of the University of London Extra Mural Psychology Society. She is hopeful that a film for which she wrote the synopsis about Adler and an "incurable" burglar will be released this year.

Dr. Walter E. O'Connell has had several speaking engagements recently. On February 24, 1970, he spoke at Marian High School in Houston, Texas, on the topic of "Uses and Abuses of Sex." On February 26, 1970, and March 5, 1970, he spoke on "Adler's Influence Today" at the Child Development Section of Texas Children's Hospital, Texas Medical Center, Houston, Texas. "The War Between the Generations" was the topic used for a day-long session at St. Anne's Auditorium in Houston, Texas, on February 28, 1970.

The California Adlerian Society elected the following officers for 1969-70:

Chairman - Loren Grey
 Vice Chairman - Paul Brodsky
 Executive Secretary - Barbara Passmore
 Treasurer - Maxine Vance
 Delegates-at-Large - Tom Smith &
 Helen Crawford.

On January 28, 1970, Dr. Ernst Papanek held Teachers-in-Service-Training at The Alfred Adler Institute in New York. The topic was "Learning and Behavior Problems."

Dr. Loren Grey is Director of the San Fernando Valley Community Parent-Teacher Education Center which opened in October of last year. It is sponsored by the San Fernando Valley Society of Individual Psychology. Counseling sessions are held each Saturday at Prairie Street Elementary School auditorium, Northridge, California. Families are interviewed before an audience of parents and laboratory students from a San Fernando Valley State College extension course in Family Counseling. The interaction provides insight to families as well as counselor training for students.

Other staff members at the Center Are:

Psychiatric Consultant - Dr. Bernard C. Gindes
Social Worker - Celia Harrison
Secretary - Barbara Passmore.

From New York . . .
On January 23, 1970, Dr. Helene Papanek participated in a workshop at the Conference of the American Group Therapy Association in New Orleans. It was entitled, "Handling of Resistance in Group Psychotherapy." February 3 - 17, 1970, Dr. Helene Papanek, Dr. Kurt Adler, and Danica Deutsch were on a panel of the Cooper Union for the Alfred Adler Centennial. Danica Deutsch, Dr. Bernard Mackler, and Dr. Helen Papanek were on a panel at WNYC also in regard to the Centennial. On March 18, 1970, Dr. Helene Papanek lectured on "Social Conflict and Social Interest" at the New York Society of Ethical Culture.

ADLERIAN TECHNIQUES PRESENTED

Members from North Central Washington Society of Individual Psychology were invited to present a synopsis of Adlerian techniques to a group of Yakima County, Washington, school counselors on Tuesday, March 17, 1970.

The panel members were Dr. William Bassett of Wenatchee Valley College, Edward Piper, Principal of Dryden Junior High School, Charlotte Gray, classroom teacher, and Ron Kerby, Junior High School teacher.

Dr. Bassett expertly delivered an introduction to the Adlerian philosophy and movement. Other contributions were, "When Teachers are Discouraging and Encouraging to Students," by Edward Piper; "Developing a Democratic Classroom," by Charlotte Gray; and "Logical Consequences and Discipline" by Ron Kerby. The counselors appreciated questions and discussion, and a review of the available publications, before the meeting closed.

PUBLICATIONS LIST

Books, audio-tapes, mimeographed materials, and pamphlets predominantly by Adlerian authors are obtainable from two sources. For those located in the midwest or east, write to Mrs. Evelyn Wachman, Executive Secretary, Alfred Adler Institute, Suite 510, 6 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60602 requesting publication list and prices. Those located in the west may write Janet Mann, Sales Chariman, 2311 N.W. 11th St., Corvallis, Oregon, 97330.

The Montmorency Period of the Child-Care Program of the OSE by Ernst Papanek is a reprint from In Fight for the Health of the Jewish People (50 Years of OSE) edited by Dr. L. Wulman. The OSE (Oeuvre de Secours aux Enfants) children's home in Montmorency, France, which was organized by Dr. Ernst Papanek, provided homes for children from Germany, Austria, Poland, and Czechoslovakia, who had been subjected to Nazi terrorism. The OSE home strived to provide a meaningful life for them. The OSE Union preamble stated, ". . . This community is a part of the great community of all human beings. The democratic rights as well as the duties of the members of the community are the same in both our small community, and the larger one. . . ."

The reprint relates experiences which would seem to be extremely difficult for children to overcome. However, the environment provided by the OSE homes helped many of them to become well adjusted citizens who have sincere compassion and empathy for their fellowman.

Members of the American Society of Adlerian Psychology were well represented at the American Personnel and Guidance Association annual convention in New Orleans, March 22-26, 1970. Sixteen Adlerians participated in 24 programs during the three-day session. Some program titles were: "Extreme Pupil Behavior Problems," "Five Year's Use of Special Class Techniques," "Workshop in Adlerian Counseling," "Consulting with Parents and Teachers - A Demonstration," "Improving Racial Relations through Group Counseling: Two Research Studies," "Guidance for All: Through Developmental Programs and Materials," "Strategies for Behavior Modification in Schools," "Elementary School Counseling: Innovative Group Approaches," and "Workshop in Adlerian Counseling: Demonstration - Individual and Group."

EVENTS AND PAPERS WANTED

The Journal of Individual Psychology would like to publish as complete a list as possible of all Alfred Adler Centennial events and publications and therefore asks that all groups and individuals who have been responsible for such notify them immediately. Please include the date, time, place, participants, sponsors, and any other noteworthy details. In the case of publications, please give date, name of journal or publication, and page references. Please forward the information to Dr. Rowena Ansbacher, Associate Editor, The Journal of Individual Psychology, University of Vermont, Burlington, Vermont, 05401.

***

Dr. Harold Mosak will be a guest lecturer at West Virginia University on April 16 and 17, 1970. He will give an address commemorating the Alfred Adler Centennial as well as meeting with graduate students and staff. He will give one public address at the Mountainlair.

ADLERIAN OPEN HOUSE

The Adlerians gathered in the Iberville Room of Hotel Monteleone Monday Evening during the American Personnel and Guidance Association convention in New Orleans. Reports of the activities in the United States and abroad indicate the vast involvement of Adlerians in community, school, government, etc.

ASAP EXHIBIT AT APGA CONVENTION S-P-E-C-T-A-C-U-L-A-R

Preparation for the ASAP exhibit for the American Personnel and Guidance Association 1970 convention in New Orleans began in October, 1969, with an application for space and a note to all members of ASAP concerning the contemplated exhibit requesting suggestions. A great many suggestions were received.

Local ASAP organizations were invited to send brief mimeographed handouts of their activities. Some of the local ASAP organizations sent a limited number of brochures which were not sufficient for the estimated 3,000 APGA members who stopped at the exhibit. The materials forwarded were displayed on pegboard, i.e., The Journal of Individual Psychology, The Individual Psychologist, ASAP Calendar-Newsletter, and brochures. It would have been effective if we would have had a directory of all the local organizations and affiliated groups to emphasize our activities further.

The exhibit would not have been possible without enthusiastic volunteers at the exhibit and in the home offices. Special commendation goes to Mrs. Carrie Sonstegard and Valerie Sonstegard who put up the display, arranged the exhibit materials, and answered questions of convention participants - especially Sunday afternoon. Those who volunteered to help at the booth were Mrs. Dorothy Stormer, Bill McKelvie (the Ohio McKelvie), Bill McKelvey (the St. Louis McKelvey), Debbie Pew, Becky and Jim McDonough, Ike Owen, Mrs. Oscar Mink, Bob Tures, and Genevieve Painter. We could not have operated without their help.

Mrs. Evelyn Wachman deserves special recognition for packaging the materials and books at the Alfred Adler Institute in Chicago and shipping them to New Orleans. The packages were waiting for us when we got there. Also, Mrs. Sue Blons forwarded mimeographed handouts from the Minneapolis group. What wonderful management!

We are grateful to the New York group for forwarding the Bulletins of Information of both the Alfred Adler Institute and the Alfred Adler Mental Hygiene Clinic. Heinz Ansbacher provided reprints of The Journal of Individual Psychology, Vol. 25, No. 2 a monograph - "Individual Psychology in the School."

The audio-visual material for the exhibit consisted of two sets of colored slides prepared by Park Johnson and accompanied by a narration prepared by Robert Nelsen. Lee Martin did the narrating. All are graduate students at West Virginia University. Their contributions to the exhibit was invaluable; it was the continuous showing of the slides that attracted people to the exhibit.

The exhibit was set up by 12:00 noon on Sunday. We were immediately besieged by convention goers who requested handouts and left their names to be added to our mailing list. A great deal of interest was shown in The Individual Psychologist of which we had copies for exhibition only. We distributed 1,000 copies of the March issue of the ASAP Calendar-Newsletter and over 1,000 order blanks for publications. By Tuesday evening our supply of handouts was pretty well depleted. Wednesday was spent distributing handouts we had left and talking to the people who came to our booth, encouraging them to leave their names for our mailing list. From Sunday to Wednesday, 550 people put their names on the mailing list. Dr. Dreikurs stopped at the exhibit and spent approximately two hours talking with people who were interested in Adlerian Psychology.

The American Society of Adlerian Psychology had by far the most popular exhibit. Even though the supply of handouts and materials to distribute was insufficient, people stopped to view the slides. In view of the large number of people contacted, we feel that the expenditure of approximately $450 was reasonable and profitable. A large number of people inquired about our publications and information was provided as to where they may obtain them.

The 1971 APGA Convention will be held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, April 4 - 8, 1971.

There are still a few stipends left in the EPDA Institute in Elementary School Counseling and Early Childhood Education at West Virginia University. Write or call right away if you are interested.

The institute emphasizes the development of elementary school counseling programs and of a unique type of elementary school counselor.

The socio-teleological or Adlerian approach to counseling is the model we will use in the training program. By utilizing a psychological theory emphasizing an action approach to counseling, we are able to look at the purposes and goals of misbehavior and thereby formulate a reorientation program that can be implemented by students, teachers, and parents. Much emphasis is placed on working with groups, including groups of students, teachers and parents; and in the consulting role of the counselor with teachers.

This institute takes the position that training counselors is not enough; a systematic program of dissemination, and training in a practical setting is needed. These objectives will be achieved through culminating the counselor's training with a team training experience for the first 5 weeks of the 1971 summer session. The team will be composed of pupil personnel workers, principal or other administrator, and the counselor in an integrated learning experience during the second summer and in inservice programs in the sponsoring schools during the year.

Schedule:

July 16 - August 15, 1970

August 26 - May 16, 1970-71

June 14 - July 15, 1971 (Pending Funding)

Enrollees live on campus for 5-week summer term (second five weeks) and a 32-week academic experience. The supporting team members will be on campus for five weeks during the first five-week term, summer of 1971. The latter provides six hours credit: Behavior Problems in the School (3 hrs.); Seminar in a Pupil Personnel Approach (3 hrs.); The institute program is a full day experience not necessarily following typical class hours but encompassing lab experiences, seminars, and regular classes within the weekly schedule of the five days. Counselor trainees will complete requirements for the master's degree. The usual allowable stipends of $75 per week plus $15 per week for each supporting member. Enrollees must purchase required textbooks; however, no fees will be required to devote additional time to weekend practicum or marathon experiences. These experiences may infringe upon commitments to family, commuting arrangements, etc.

Eligibility:

- (1) Applicants shall be non-trained counselors entering the field, but having completed an introductory course in Counseling and Guidance and 3 hours of graduate psychology.* Special consideration will be made for school districts strongly committed to program development with minimally trained counselors who may have more than six hours of work in counseling and guidance.

*Prerequisites can be made up during the first five weeks of summer school at the enrollee's expense.

- (2) Counselors must meet the general requirements for admission to the WVU Graduate School, including an overall grade point average of 2.5 plus a GRE verbal score of 400.
- (3) Counselors must submit evidence of a valid agreement of employment with the sponsoring school for the school year 1971-72 and guarantee the fulfillment of that agreement.
- (4) Counselors must also hold an elementary school teaching certificate.
- (5) Priority will be given to participants from sponsoring schools agreeing to develop an elementary school counseling and guidance program using this team in 1971-72. The team consists of pupil personnel workers, and administrator and a counselor.
