PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear NASAP Member:

Membership totaled 928 on March 30 and is keeping just about the same pace as last year. Usually the membership nears 1,250 by the end of the year, but we can exceed that if 300 of you will bring in a new member. Are you willing to make that effort?

Regions IV and V both held successful Spring meetings in late March. I attended the Region V meeting in New York City and was treated to an excellent program. Region V joins Regions III and IV in becoming financially solvent. The "seed money" extended by NASAP has proved to be a viable means of stimulating regional and local growth and development. Why is this so important? More and more people are exposed and trained as a result! That is why these activities are vital to the spread of Adlerian ideas.

My note to you in the April issue of the NEWSLETTER indicated that a major responsibility of the Delegate Assembly is that of selecting convention sites. As is well known, the issue of holding conventions in non-ERA states is important to all NASAP members. You will receive a mail ballot on this issue shortly. The Delegate Assembly needs a large response for its guidance in making these decisions. Please take the time to respond.

You have also received Convention registration materials from Chairman Bill Marchant and Company. Return them today! Make travel arrangements early! Those of us living in the New York-Washington, D.C. area have a real travel bargain. A new route by Texas International from Baltimore-Washington to Las Vegas and return at only $198.00.

Your President plans to arrive at the Convention site a few days early in order to visit with editors, newsmen, political, and civic leaders.

See you in Las Vegas.

Cordially,

Hal McAbee
President

LETTERS TO EDITOR

LAS VEGAS CONVENTION

Las Vegas, NV

I think it is time that an Adlerian who lives in Las Vegas give the other side of the story. I take vigorous exception to the attitude of the Adlerians who have taken the time to write to the NEWSLETTER.

First, Las Vegas is not the "meat market capital" of the world. Believe it or not, there are hardworking, cooperative, articulate and genuinely nice human beings living here. We work at our jobs, go to church, own homes and play like everyone else. We worry about our lawns, children, inflation and world problems like everyone else. Unlike others, we don't worry about taxes and pollution. Why? Because we pay very little tax and on a clear day we can still see forever.

I am(as most of my fellow Adlerians) in full support of the ERA. I voted and worked for the passage of the amendment. I find it disconcerting to be put down by others because the amendment did not pass. What are my options? Do I sell my home, leave this marvelous climate, quit my job and move to another approved state? Do I say to Bill Marchant, "No, I won't help with the convention--do it yourself!?" Do I boycott the casinos that financially support my university and the school that my son attends? I think not.

I think that other Adlerians need to offer their support to all of us in Nevada who have worked hard on an exciting, mind-broadening experience the last weekend in May. Please come here to learn and play. If you want, eat dried nuts in one of our beautiful parks, but if you want, enjoy our Strip and nightlife. I think all of you will be surprised to find that Las Vegas is not only a nice place to visit-- you might even consider, as I did 4 years ago, making it your home. I have never regretted my decision.--

"LADY"

Milwaukee, WI

A letter was recently sent from a reader expressing his puzzlement over the objection of some people to the word "lady." I would like to take this opportunity, through the use of the word "lady" to discuss the subtle oppression of language.

Webster's Dictionary defines "lady" as "a woman whose conduct conforms to a certain standard of propriety or correct behavior." The difficulty for women has been to figure out exactly what is "correct behavior" and what are the "standards of propriety." (Surely no one called the marching suffragettes of 1910 "ladies.")

It is, then, this unspoken code which is objectionable. It is this code that is forced upon women in order that their "conduct conform." To what? Women have spent many fruitless moments wondering, pondering and doubting their being a "lady" instead of acting, taking risks, being and utilizing themselves.

There is also the element of elevation implicit in the use of "lady." It is a way of putting a woman on a pedestal. (Again, the concept of confinement.) There is not much room on a pedestal except for "off" and "down" or "fallen." But then we have other words for "those KIND" of women. Those words are on the opposite end of the spectrum from "lady"..... "whore, slut, bitch."

Now we have created new words to continue the warfare of linguistic oppression. These, too, are on the opposite end of the spectrum from "lady." These new words which women should shudder at being called are "pushy," "aggressive," and "women-libbers."

The choice to use or abandon the word "lady" belongs to each individual. But please consider: some women will cringe at being called a "lady." For them, there is no distinction between a pedestal and a shackle.--

REFLECTION

Fresno, CA

After the D.C. convention I lost contact with NASAP because of an address change. Today, thanks to Neva Hefner, I received and read six issues of the NEWSLETTER. I allowed myself to experience several emotions, including disgust, affection, ambivalence, annoyance, worry, melancholy, and cheer. I wanted to refute the line of thought presented by those who so love to listen to their own voices but in so doing perhaps I would become one. I wanted to withdraw my membership in the organization, an organization of hypocrites who espouse the principles of social interest and mutual respect regardless of difference, yet realized were I to do so, I would also be as a "tinkling brass and a sounding cymbol." I wanted to plead for tolerance, understanding and forgiveness for the emotional violence which has been committed, yet I know how capable I am of committing the same acts of violence when my cause is not heard, when I do not achieve my desires. I wanted to quote those whom I admire, the giants which have gone before, some of which many of you do not recognize in the way I do, e.g., Christ, but alas I recognized standing on a soap box would merely elevate me.

Finally, I have decided to experience, in the deepest sense, my joy that we are, we have uniqueness and freedom to decide for ourselves, weigh issues, ponder perspectives and move in the direction of our selection.

I thank God for Free Agency.--
Richard Berrett

REGIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

REGION II

Fran Yoder, Secretary-Treasurer of Region II, has reported that the election held October, 1978 for delegates to the regional assembly has yielded 10 delegates. Since the Region II Constitution calls for 15, the remaining delegates will be voted on at the NASAP meeting in Las Vegas. Officers will then plan for a regional meeting and activities. # # #

REGION III

Don Dinkmeyer reports that they had a very successful Region III conference in February in Orlando. They had approximately 100 in attendance and this is without a semi-annual bonus of 30 D.A. Material was sold, a lot of information was given out, and much interest was started. People were so interested that another conference is planned for February 23, 24, 1980 in Orlando.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

WOMEN'S ISSUES COMMITTEE

Sharon Percy Rockefeller reports that "Women aren't the better half--they're the other half. But in government they're the missing half. There are only 17 women in the U.S. Congress--and 518 men. Nationally, women hold less than 10% of all elective offices. There are no women on the Supreme Court--and there never have been. Men run America."

And not so well at that. Chicago, at least, has given a woman a chance to see what she can do with this unwieldy endlessly fascinating city. Jane Byrne made it! A woman mayor!

ERA is only one--very important--way to bring about women's equality. A lot of people are doing what they can in a variety of ways to help. The Region IV meeting in West Virginia included a panel discussion on "The Changing Relationship of Women in Society" by Gloria Lane, Janet Turner, Donna Tuites, and Sue McKelvie, with Jim Bitter as Moderator.

One new member of the National Health Federation sent us a copy of a letter calling their attention to use of the generic he on their membership card ("...as a member is endeavoring to exert his strength and influence in his city, county, state, and nation..."). NHF wrote back and expressed appreciation and promised to change the wording on the next printing.

Some people are making a special effort to support women in business, whether lawyers, accountants, real estate agents or whatever.

Marquita Hutchens, Harriet Tower, and I had a marvelous time telling a fascinated crowd at the Women-in-Business meeting about Adlerian ways of creating equal relationships. The women who designed and ran that meeting did a tremendous job of organizing it, and getting over 3,000 enthusiastic participants to come to discuss all aspects of careers.

The regular column written by Marie Hartwell-Walker on Adlerian ideas for parents and teachers has spread from one paper to four others already! Marie is making sure she'll have plenty to contribute, as a practicing "working mother." One more innovative way to combine the two.

What about our own organization? Where do we stand? Do we stand? What do you want NASAP to do?

Although many people will not be attending the convention in Las Vegas, for those who do, there are several programs on Women's Issues, and Weltha Logan will be doing a post-convention workshop called "No Longer--Not Yet" which is labeled "Not for women only."--

The Summer Schedule of courses and workshops, with full details and registration form, will be available in late April, and mailed to all those on the AAI mailing list. Many NASAP members from out of town are planning to be at the Chicago Institute this Summer.

Students from outside the Chicago area who have been admitted to Institute programs are reminded that at least a substantial portion of the practicum must be done in Chicago through the Rudolf Dreikurs Psychological Services Center. The practicum may be begun when the student has completed all the core courses (at least three of these in Chicago), and candidacy has been approved by the faculty. Many non-local students are approaching candidate status. Full details on policies and procedures for non-local students are available from the Institute.

NEW YORK

New York City--Lucia Radl modestly informs us she has been nominated for the 11th edition of WHO'WHO OF AMERICAN WOMEN to be published in March of this year. She has been chosen for her outstanding achievements in the field of medicine. Lucia is a lecturer at the AAI of NY and supervisor in the training program.

Joyce Richardson has been appointed a Commissioner on the Commission on the Status of Women by Mayor Koch of New York. The Commission deals with a variety of issues, e.g., Women and the Arts, Employment for Disabled Women, Abortion Rights for Women. She also works as a counselor for an agency called Career Advancement for Women, where she uses Adlerian techniques.

NEW ZEALAND

Marti Malterre of California writes, "I've just returned from a trip to New Zealand. I followed up on the Adlerian ideas that Loren Grey introduced when he was there two years ago. March 10 I did an all day workshop called Positive Parenting. In a country where their own textbooks describe New Zealand parenting as negative, it was encouraging to have almost 100 people try to get into a workshop limited to 50, all aiming for positive parenting.

Some of the same core group developed by Loren were at the workshop and continue to spread the Adlerian word in New Zealand. In Palmerston North, Cheryl Clarke, Beryl O'Donnell and Barbara Hager are all professional people influencing many. Julie Smee is in Auckland finishing her M.A. I spent a morning lecturing to 3rd year social work students at Massey University, introducing them to the practical ideas of Adlerian Psychology."
