PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear fellow members:

Following the annual meeting in Amherst, I neglected in the last President's message to express appreciation and admiration to Edna Nash, now Past President, for her sensitive and skilled leadership during the past year. Her ability to accept ideas from all sources, coordinate and encourage their development, has been a great benefit to the Society.

In the last newsletter I did not mention that the Delegate Assembly heard a presentation by Larry Nissenbaum about ideas to further democratize the structure of the Society. One aspect of his discussion was somewhat parallel to what Region I is doing in the West; dividing regions into smaller units called sections. Since our membership is about 1400 and there are 30 delegate assembly persons, groupings of about 50 people would have a representative to the Delegate Assembly, making access to the Delegate Assembly easier. These and other ideas will be discussed by a committee chaired by John Symynkywicz, named the Ad Hoc Committee for the 80's. We welcome any suggestions or comments and they can be addressed to Neva Hefner at the central office, John, or myself.

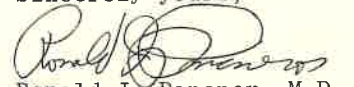

The plans for the NASAP sponsored excursion seminar are progressing well. Drs. Shulman, Gold, Mosak, and Pancner, Dorothy Peven and Kristin Pancner have agreed to teach. Its main emphasis will be towards physicians, family practitioners and their spouses. The workshops will be helpful to anyone in clinical practice. The title will be Applied Adlerian Psychology--The Unique Contribution of Alfred Adler's Psychology to Medical Practice. Through the Alfred Adler Institute of Chicago, Category I, Continuing Medical Education credits of the American Medical Association will be available. The Kirkland Travel Agency, whose office is in Kansas City, has a mailing list of 10,000 physicians. We are looking forward to a week on Mexico's West coast, hope that our effort will be successful and that this will be the first of an annual offering. A more complete agenda will be published at a later time.

Unfortunately at this date we still cannot give you the financial status of our Society. The Massachusetts University computer still has not produced the final data that we need. However, our thanks to the regions that have now contributed a total of $1500.00 to NASAP to help balance the budget.

In closing, let me ask for everyone's input. The Society is in a phase of re-evaluating its direction and structure. The Society needs to hear from all of you in order to reach a true consensus.

Sincerely yours,

Ronald J. Pancner, M.D.
President

DELEGATE ASSEMBLY

The NASAP Delegate Assembly is scheduled to meet in Boise, Idaho on Thursday and Friday, November 6 and 7, 1980. If you have any agenda items to be brought before the D.A., please contact Neva L. Hefner, Executive Secretary, NASAP, 159 N. Dearborn, Chicago, IL 60601. Or, you may contact any of your regional Delegates.

INDIVIDUAL PSYCHOLOGIST

Please do not give up, the INDIVIDUAL PSYCHOLOGIST is still being published! We have received word that the combined March/June issue will be mailed the first week in October. The combined September/December issue will probably be out in November. We regret the inconvenience of this delay.

NEWSNOTES

Region I--Far West

ARIZONA

Tucson--Kevin Leman is the regular guest psychologist on the new Toni Tennille Show appearing on NBC this fall. He will give regular advice on parenthood, marriage, and matters pertaining to the family on a regular basis. He will be talking a great deal about his book, PARENTHOOD WITHOUT HASSLES,* (*Well Almost).

CALIFORNIA

Petaluma--The Family Education Center of Petaluma resumed its fall schedule on September 17 at Miwok Valley School. Their summer was not an idle one. They had three book study groups, family campouts, three women's groups and a couples' support group. One of the women's groups led by Sally Dominguez and Riki Intner celebrated its first anniversary in July.

Region II--Midwest

ILLINOIS

Chicago--AAI of Chicago: The 16 courses offered in Chicago in June and August drew a record number of registrants--293. Many of these students are completing the degree or certificate programs through a combination of training in their own locales and in Chicago.

NASAP members are cordially invited to attend the Institute's Graduation Exercises on Sunday, October 19. Please contact the Institute for details.

Time is running out! To qualify for the Challenge Grant offered to AAI by the Continental Bank Foundation, the Institute must raise over $9,000 from other foundations and corporations by mid-October. The need is critical. We are counting on NASAP members for more leads and contacts.

A report entitled, "State of the Institute - August 1980," has been distributed to members of the Board, faculty, student body, benefactors, and other Adlerian institutes. Additional copies are available. Please send a large self-addressed stamped envelope to the Institute at 159 North Dearborn, Chicago, IL 60601.

The "State of the Institute" report will be of special interest to those who wish to obtain more information on the development of the doctoral program.

INDIANA

Terre Haute--Bernice Grunwald will be a dinner speaker at Indiana State University during the Blumberg Conference on Exceptional Children, October 2, 8:00 p.m. Her topic is Teaching for the Optimal Human Development.

MICHIGAN

Livonia--Karol Doody writes that a small group of interested teachers, social workers and health professions are attempting to stimulate interest in the Adlerian theory of psychology in Southeastern Michigan. They are taking steps to incorporate and establish an Adlerian Institute in that area. They will hold three workshops during the 1980-81 school year with the Summer of 1981 as the target date for holding their first course as an Institute.

Harold Mosak will be their first workshop presenter on October 18 and Bernice Grunwald in February. There will be parent study groups conducted in Farmington and the Detroit area this fall.

Anyone in that area interested in joining in this ambitious effort or lending support in any way, contact Karol Doody, 15930 Doris, Livonia, MI 48154.

NEBRASKA

Frank Main will be presenting a workshop on "Maintaining Sanity in the Classroom" for the Nebraska Educational Service Unit #2 in Fremont, Nebraska on November 12, 13, 14. In addition, on February 9, 10, and 11 he will present similar workshops in the Fremont and Omaha areas for educational units.

Region III--South

TEXAS

Lubbock--Will Willingham sends the following greeting: Greetings to all from the West Texas Society of Adlerian Psychology, the newest affiliate of NASAP. The seed planted by Rudolf and "Tee" Dreikurs on the plains of West Texas has sprouted and bloomed. The flowering will continue through a Family Education Association and perhaps an Adler-Dreikurs Institute. Is this overambition or is it gemeinschaftsgefühl? Or is it both?

Region IV--Middle Atlantic

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Nicholas Ionedes addressed 52 ministers who came to the American University in D.C. from all over the country for training in pastoral counseling. Ionedes found that the ministers were very much impressed with the social philosophy of Adler-Dreikurs. They heard other psychiatrists and psychologists in their training but enjoyed the common sense philosophy, effectiveness, and the optimism of Adler and Dreikurs. Some of the ministers from the D.C. area will continue their training with Ionedes in his private practice.

MARYLAND

Bowie--Just speak with anyone who has participated in the annual Fall Workshops held by the Adler-Dreikurs Institute at Bowie State College and you will be assured that the experience is unique and rewarding, says Joan Richards, graduate of the Institute. Whether taken for graduate credit, continuing education or personal growth, this year's workshops will offer creative ideas concerning "The Politics of Stress, Power and Sex in Human Relationships."

Dates: October 4, 5

Alfred Adler Memorial Workshop Series

GOOD NEWS! Two Alfred Adler Memorial Workshops have been scheduled for this fall. They will both be on Saturday, November 15, 1980.

1. Roosevelt Hotel, New York City

Bernard Shulman will present a program entitled "Cognitive Style: The Relationship between Cognitive Style and Psychopathology Techniques for Predicting Behavior in Therapy and What the Therapist Can Do."

Contact: New York Committee, Region V NASAP
Sylvia Robbins
37 West 65th Street
New York, NY 10023

2. Florissant Valley Community College, St. Louis

Walter E. O'Connell will present a program on Creative Techniques for Expanding Self-Esteem: Natural High Therapy.

There will be a Region II meeting in conjunction with the workshop from 4 to 5 p.m.

Contact: Jean Alessi, 11834 Helta Dr., St. Louis, MO 63128

Who will join these two groups in sponsoring a workshop? There are a number of distinguished Adlerians who have agreed to present a program for expenses only. The local sponsoring group handles the arrangements and publicity and shares the profits with the Society. Those interested in sponsoring a workshop, please contact Neva Hefner at the central office. (NASAP, 159 N. Dearborn, Chicago, IL 60601.)

Radio Spots

Seven radio spot announcements, 20 seconds in length, on parent study groups have been produced and put on 6 master tapes. Five cities have been chosen as pilot study groups to test the radio spot announcements: Tucson, Vancouver, St. Louis, Randolph MA, Pocatello.

Carol Arnold, P.R. Chair, indicates that the tape will be duplicated for sale to member societies for $10 or less. The tape will include instructions on how to use it. Any society interested, please write to the central office.

Winter Institute

The Americas Institute of Adlerian Studies invites you to attend its WINTER INSTITUTE to be held on the beautiful Caribbean island of Curacao, Netherlands Antilles from December 26, 1980-January 2, 1981.

The WINTER INSTITUTE will offer courses for graduate credit taught by Robert L. Powers and Francis X. Walton, several workshops and demonstrations, a Distinguished Guest Lecture by Alexandra Adler, M.D., and a complete children's program. (Details of the INSTITUTE were published in an AIAS brochure distributed in the last issue of the NASAP Newsletter.)

The deadline for registration has been extended to October 15, 1980, by which time course fees and the registration fee must be paid. In addition, a minimum deposit of three nights lodging is required in order to guarantee a room at the Holiday Beach Hotel and Casino during the busy holiday season.

Please call 312/337-5066 or write AIAS, Suite 2502-A, 600 N. McClurg Court, Chicago, IL 60611 for further information.

Ampex Wanted in Texas!

Walter E. "Buzz" O'Connell is looking for an Ampex video tape machine. His early "Spotlight Show" appearances and therapy demonstrations have been taped on 1" Ampex video-tapes. He wants to transfer these to standard 3/4" video cassettes. In order to do this he must have a 1" Ampex machine.

One local expert informed Buzz that Ampex has been so superseded that they are now being used for boat anchors in Galveston Bay!!

If anyone knows the whereabouts of a 1" Ampex, reel to reel, machine, please contact Walter E. O'Connell, 3406 Yoakum Blvd., Houston, TX 77006.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Idea Exchange Column

Halfmoon Bay, B.C.--In the May issue of this newsletter, you printed a statement from Kevin O'Connor and Renee Dushman that outlined the success they have had using my program for Couple Enrichment Study Groups. As a result, I have had many requests for further information. It is so good to know that one's work is recognized and appreciated by peers.

I'm discovering that many Adlerians live and work in somewhat isolated situations, as I do, either geographically, or from colleagues with a similar perspective, or both. We must make and maintain contact with one another. (Note our new NASAP logo of linked arms.)

I urge Adlerians all over North America to be as encouraging to one another as Kevin and Renee were to me. Note what materials, ideas, programs, etc. you are currently using based on Adlerian premises, then look at who developed them; where did you get them? Was it a workshop, lecture, course, book, newsletter article?

Take a few minutes to write out an acknowledgement of your resources and send it to Neva Hejner, the editor of this newsletter. Perhaps Neva can develop an "Exchange" or "Share" column to which many of us can contribute.
--E. Clair Hawes

(Ed. note--let us hear your ideas; such a column could certainly be implemented if material is sent in.)

NASAP Convention 1980 - - - a Natural High

Great Neck, NY--The 550 people who attended the 1980 convention of our Society in Amherst will long remember the experience. The energy, youthful vigor and enthusiasm touched everyone I spoke to. For those new to Adlerian meetings, the warmth and spirit of togetherness gave them a first-hand experience with Gemeinschaftsgefühl.

An anecdote told to me by Danica Deutch about Adler, reminded me of the spirit of the meeting. Adler would shake someone's hand as they parted and instead of saying "Goodbye," he would smilingly say, "Improve Yourself." Exposure to Adlerian ideas, learning and striving together is the best way we have to "Improve Yourself." Our conventions and meetings provide us with these opportunities to develop the professional level of the Society, introduce our ideas to new people and invite them to join our organization. Especial congratulations to the Amherst team headed by Marie Hartwell-Walker and Lawrence Belove for the "Natural High" they gave us.

--Sylvia Robbins

(Ed.note--Here! Here!)

Arlington, VA--It took me some time to decide to write this note.

Our 1980 Annual Convention was a success. I enjoyed tremendously the idea of having case presentations in the program.

I was very lucky to listen to my friends and prominent Adlerians, Corsini, Mim Pew, Gold and Powers. I enjoyed their presentations, but left their sessions with a feeling of sorrow.

These wonderful Adlerians selected for presentation extremely difficult patients and tried to give the message to the group that in some cases you cannot do many things. I do not accept this philosophy. I prefer to convey the idea that in the majority of the cases you can do many things to help another human being. This is what my Adlerian friends are doing in their work but they failed to tell us about it.

--Nicholas S. Ionedes

PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Adlerian Newspaper Columns

NASAP's Public Relations Committee sees an opportunity to spread the Adlerian word through the use of weekly newspaper columns.

Two such columns already exist. Marie Hartwell-Walker and Polly de Sherbinin write a column called "Today's Family." The column is for sale for $50 for 26 columns. Write Marie at 60 N. Whitney St., Amherst, MA, for samples to show the editor of your local paper.

The other column available is "Coping with Kids" by Linda Albert. This column is supplied free to all 80 Gannett papers around the country by the Gannett News Service, which buys the column from Linda. The local editors determine whether or not to print the column in their city. If you live in a city with a Gannett paper (check the editorial page or call the paper to find out) and if they are not publishing "Coping with Kids" weekly, call the managing editor and tell him/her that you are aware that the Gannett News Service is providing them with "Coping with Kids" and that you would be interested in reading this column weekly. Encourage members of your Parent Study Groups to call also. Since publishing these columns will not cost your local paper a penny, all that need be shown is sufficient reader interest.

Perhaps you'd like to write a column of your own for your local paper. To do so, study the features format of your paper and write a couple of sample columns that fit under the general features design. Show the samples to the features editor, emphasizing why what you have written would have wide reader appeal. Offer to supply a few columns at no charge, to gauge reader interest. Then have friends write letters to the editor in support of the column when it appears!

Caution: The pay for writing newspaper columns is very poor, but the service you can perform for the very large number of potential readers is tremendous.

For further information and help concerning Adlerian newspaper columns, contact: Linda Albert-Watson, 117 Giles St., Ithaca, NY 14850.

Soviet Journal Review

Alfred Adler's SUPERIORITY AND SOCIAL INTEREST: A COLLECTION OF LATER WRITINGS, edited by H. L. and R. R. Ansbacher, 3rd edition, W.W. Norton, 1979, was reviewed at considerable length in Russian in Novje Knigi, Social Sciences Division, May 1980, pp. 35-41. Novje Knigi is the Soviet review journal for scientific books. The Ansbachers would be glad to send a copy of the review to anyone who would undertake to translate it.
