PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Noel Coward, in "The Bar on the Piccola Marina", describes "an English woman who discovered in the nick of time, that life is for living."

Not very profound it would seem. Out of context, it is not even funny. So simple, it is likely to be followed by "everyone knows that." But not true. Everyone does not know, or live like, life is for living.

Adlerians can view people hiding, avoiding, contorting, distorting, while chasing their personal goals, with very little room for "living." Even people in the chase to be good, to do right, be liked, etc., have difficulty relaxedly participating, because they must check to see if anyone is doing more right or good, or is better liked than they. In the extreme goal some Adlerians seem to seek, having the most social interest, a lot of pleasure is lost as they see other Adlerians trying to "out social interest" them.

Life presents so many opportunities for being a part of and assisting others and so many opportunities for protecting and taking care of oneself that one can successfully do both without seeking or striving unduly. And if it is natural to take advantage of these and other opportunities, life can be lived.

Noel Coward's English woman enjoys herself for the first time. However, her grown children want her to return to a proper home. They know how she should live. She tells them, "no one can afford to be so la-di bloody da."

Bibliography Available

A Bibliography for Adlerian Psychology, Vol. 2 Birdie and Harold H. Mosak, Hemisphere Publishing Corp., New York, 320 pages.

The second volume of the Bibliography is finally off the press. The Mosaks, who receive no royalties, labored for seven years on the second volume. A number of NASAP members donated to the subsidy required for the publication.

The second volume provides a continuation of the first bibliography published in 1975 and includes over 5,000 citations of works published throughout the world. It covers the full range of articles and books dealing with Individual Psychology in all languages, beginning with the original writings of Alfred Adler and his co-workers, and including everything written and published on IP since that time. The extensive cross referenced index makes this an efficient, easy-to-use resource.

The Bibliography may be obtained by sending $49.95 plus $1.00 postage (Illinois residents add 8% sales tax) to the Alfred Adler Institute of Chicago, 159 N. Dearborn St., Chicago 60601.

REGIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

REGION I--NORTHWEST

Roland Hawes was elected President of the Region at its meeting in Atlanta in May and will also serve as Secretary. Sandy Wrightman was elected Treasurer. Much of the time was spent on reviewing "Proposals for Region One Structure," with consensus gained on each proposed section--Regional Networking, Regional Conference and Relationship of Region I to NASAP.

A Regional Meeting will be held in February, 1986, in conjunction with the Adlerian Psychological Association of British Columbia's "Tuning In" conference. In future years, the annual Regional Meeting will be held in the fall. The Edmonton, Alberta group has invited Region I to hold its 1987 meeting in their city. Contact:

REGION II--MIDWEST

Helen Cooley reports that 17 people attended the Region II meeting in Atlanta. Those present expressed their concern regarding two long overdue items--establishment of By-Laws and a Regional Meeting within the Region. However, it was agreed to expend energies this time in promoting the NASAP '86 Convention to be held in the Region--St. Louis. It was suggested that program fliers be supplied to instructors at the Alfred Adler Institute in Chicago to encourage students to attend the 1986 Convention.

Another focus agreed upon was to establish more networking by mail. As a follow-up, all the people attending the Region II Meeting were sent a letter with names and addresses of those present.

Helen Cooley and Bronia Grunwald, two of the Region's Delegates, agreed to prepare an agenda for the next Region II meeting. Members are invited to send agenda items and concerns to:

REGION IV--MIDDLE ATLANTIC

The NASAP Region IV Annual Conference will be held at the Radisson Inn, Cincinnati, Ohio on Friday, October 18 with a Pre-Conference Workshop conducted by Oscar C. Christensen. The workshop, entitled "Family Counseling: Process and Techniques," will feature demonstrations of counseling with families.

The keynote Friday evening will be given by Dr. Christensen--"The Myth of Adolescence." Saturday and Sunday presentations include:

- The Use of Early Recollections in Clinical Diagnosis
- The Assumptive World of the Hysteric
- Adlerian Psychology in Drug & Alcohol Abuse
- Application of Adlerian Psychology in Business and Industry
- How to Establish a Private Practice
- C4R Education: The Common-Sense School System
- Assertiveness Training-Adlerian Style
- Food Power: Conditions that Affect our Reaction to Food

There will be other programs on counseling techniques, parenting, education, and other practical topics. C.E. credits available.

Saturday evening will feature a banquet and reception. The conference ends on Sunday at 12:00.

NASAP Publication Needs Survey

The purpose of this survey is to help NASAP become better informed about the types of publications in which NASAP members are most interested. This interest may in turn, be converted to specific publications or product development projects that can be provided and sponsored by NASAP itself. Please help us by at least briefly responding to the following questions and sending them to: Tom Schramski, NASAP Publications Committee, c/o CPES, 927 N. 10th Avenue, Tucson, AZ 85705. Use extra pages as necessary.

Are you a member of NASAP? _____

What are your interest areas as an Adlerian (i.e. individual psychotherapy, family education, business consultation, etc.)? _____

What Adlerian publications have proven most useful to you (i.e. Journal of Individual Psychology, Children: The Challenge, NASAP Newsletter, etc.)? _____

In what areas do you believe Adlerian publications are lacking (i.e. family education, application to special populations, psychotherapeutic strategies, etc.)? _____

Please identify any "classic" Adlerian essays, articles or passages that you feel would be valuable reprinting in some form by NASAP? _____

What thoughts (pro or con) do you have with regard to NASAP developing, producing and marketing Adlerian written or audio visual materials for sale? _____

Are there any areas of Adlerian theory or practice that you feel have been overpublished? If so, please identify. _____

What value do you see in developing a special "lay" newsletter for publication and distribution by NASAP (ex. newsletter on practical parenting)? _____

Please identify any special Adlerian audio-visual materials (ex. audio tapes for managers) or products (ex. "Courage To Be Imperfect" handbags) that you believe could be successfully marketed by NASAP or related organization. _____

We believe publication/product marketing expertise will be crucial to the success of any NASAP-sponsored venture. Please note any suggestions you have in this area including specific individuals or agencies that might assist NASAP in marketing generally or with a specific project. _____

Thank you for your help

REGION VI--FAR WEST

Birgit LaMothe, Treasurer, reminds all NASAP members who reside in Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah that annual membership dues for the region are $5 and should be sent to her at the address listed below.

A Region VI Membership Directory is being prepared that will facilitate referral and Intra-section Networking. Information requested includes: Name, address, work and home phone, occupation, work setting(s), areas of expertise for training, direct service expertise, whether or not one is in private practice, and other interests, resources and areas of skill.

Please send dues and the above information to:
Birgit LaMothe
P.O. Box 574
Capitan, NM 88316

While not an official Region VI meeting, members have been invited to participate in the First Avalon Conference on Individual Psychology, October 24-26, on the island of Catalina. The meeting is being hosted by the San Diego Society of Adlerian Psychology and information may be obtained from their President, Steven Maybell, 486 Hillway Drive, Vista, CA 92083.

The Family Education Center of Petaluma has issued an invitation for Region VI to hold its 1986 meeting in Santa Rosa, California, the weekend of October 25.

LETTERS

The Equal Rights Amendment, for a variety of reasons was never passed. I feel that the ideas imbedded in that amendment are worthy and even necessary to our democratic system.

I believe that this may be a good time to work toward the passage of a Human Rights Amendment, an amendment much like this one:

Human Rights Amendment

Section 1. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of any characteristic such as age, sex, intellectual ability, sexual preference, religious preference, physical condition, place of origin, race or economic level, which distinguishes one person from another.

Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

Section 3. This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification.

As those who are familiar with the original Equal Rights Amendment will note, it is essentially the same format with the rights extended to virtually all persons.

It seems time to pass a Human Rights Amendment which says in effect, "Hey, we really do mean those things we said earlier in this document." Adlerians, it seems, ought to take some leadership in this effort and convert preachments to practices.

If you are willing to work on a Committee to Pass the Human Rights Amendment, please contact:

Tom Edgar
Box 8225
Idaho State University
Pocatello, ID 83209

I will serve as a temporary chair of this committee until there is time to select a permanent coordinator.

IN MEMORIAM--

Helene Papanek, M.D.

Dr. Helene Papanek, charter member of NASAP, died at her New York home the end of May, 1985. Dr. Papanek served on the Board of Directors of the American Society of Adlerian Psychology from 1961 to 1967 and was President of the Society 1963-65.

Dr. Papanek was Executive Director of the Alfred Adler Institute of New York for twenty years and was a psychiatrist on the staff of the Alfred Adler Center for Mental Health in New York for more than twenty years. An item in the New York Times indicated that the Institute noted "with deep sorrow the passing of this brilliant, unique professional, great teacher....She will be greatly missed."

There will be a memorial service in September. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Alfred Adler Institute of New York.

IAIP CONGRESS

About 300 people from 10 countries attended the International Congress of the International Association of Individual Psychology (IAIP) in Montreal in July. Hal McAbee, Secretary-General, reports that the Montreal Adlerians, under the leadership of Frank and Liliane Bensinger, did an excellent job and the Congress went very well.

Officers elected: Walter Spiel, Austria, President; Bernard Shulman, U.S., First Vice President; Francesco Parenti, Italy, Second Vice President; Ranier Schmidt, West Germany, Third Vice President; Hal McAbee, U.S., Secretary-General and Horst Groner, West Germany, Assistant Secretary-General; Werner Leixnering, Austria, Treasurer; Maurice Bullard, U.S., Assistant Treasurer.

Kurt Adler was made an Honorary President, sharing that honor with Alexandra Adler and Heinz Ansbacher. North American council members elected were Ronald J. Pancner, Robert L. Powers and Kurt Adler.

The 17th International Congress of IAIP will be in Munster, West Germany, in 1987, to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the death of Alfred Adler. The exact dates will be determined later.

PETITION REQUEST FROM IAIP CONGRESS

Sylvia Robbins, one of NASAP's Delegates to the International Congress of Individual Psychology, reports that the IAIP Council endorsed a petition expressing concern about the proliferation of armaments. The petition reads:

"We the undersigned participants of the 16th meeting of the International Association of Individual Psychology propose to make known to the world our deep concern, posed by growing international tension, the danger of nuclear proliferation and the threat of catastrophic war.

"To that end we propose that this world-wide assembly align itself with organizations, such as the International Physicians for Social Responsibility who seek the diversion of resources from the proliferation of armaments toward world-wide human betterment."

People who were present at the IAIP Congress in Montreal, who are in agreement with this proposal and did not sign the petition, are asked to communicate with either of the following:
